BizTech Named One of Philadelphia Region's Top Systems Integrators for 2008

King of Prussia, PA. (May 8, 2008) – BizTech, a regional IT services firm focusing on applied technology solutions for emerging, high growth, and Fortune 500 companies, announces that it was recently named one of the Philadelphia region's Top Systems Integrators by the Philadelphia Business Journal. To make the list, BizTech replied to a survey that asked specific questions about the company's systems integration expertise. Because BizTech has a long history of integrating Oracle, Siebel, Hyperion, JD Edwards, PeopleSoft and other Oracle solutions and technologies on a variety of supported platforms, and because of the organization's high number of systems integration-focused employees, the company placed 13th in the list of 25.

"BizTech was founded on the belief that all technology initiatives must provide business value", said Tom Connolly, CEO, BizTech. "That philosophy is deeply engrained at every level of our organization and extends out and into every system integration client engagement. We are honored to be named to this year's list, and will continue to deliver the most knowledgeable systems integration consultancy services to our clients for many years to come."
