Enpirion Chooses BizTech as Managed Services Provider

King of Prussia, PA – August 19, 2008 -- BizTech, a regional IT services firm focusing on applied technology solutions for emerging, high growth, and Fortune 500 companies, announces that Enpirion, the leader in DC/DC converters with integrated inductors, has chosen BizTech as its level three managed services provider. Level three is the most comprehensive of BizTech's managed services solutions, encompassing the management of hardware and software including:

- Installation and maintenance of Enpirion's OS and technology stacks
- Change control management
- Ongoing OS and technology related patching
- Technology point or major release upgrades every two years
- Database administration including space management, fault management, performance management, database backup and recovery, routine maintenance, database access control, password management, database capacity planning, automated start up/shut down and database refreshes

Also included in the contracted services are system administration including OS level OFA standards, OS event monitoring, file system management, OS access control, password management and disk space capacity planning. As well, BizTech will provide a Managed Services Summary Report that details BizTech's ongoing support activities and accomplishments every quarter.

Steve Robb, VP Operations, Enpirion, says that bringing BizTech onboard to provide managed services will result in an overall improvement of Enpirion's Operations efficiency. "With BizTech managing the day-to-day support of Enpirion's hardware and applications," says Robb, "my team and I are able to focus on Enpirion's customer needs and address our overall business growth. Now we're free to spend our energy on those projects that will springboard us forward."
